

Cluster 1 Returns Home; Cluster 2 Cleanup Underway

The Carousel community cleanup for Cluster 1 is complete and residents have moved back home. Below is an overview of the journey Cluster 1 residents undertook during the cleanup and their time in temporary housing:

This graphic shows the key milestones that the first group of residents who temporarily moved out of their homes for the cleanup experienced.

- October 2015: Shell held meetings with Cluster 1 residents several months before they were scheduled to move out to discuss temporary accommodations, moving timeline, cleanup activities, landscaping and paint, and security for each property.

- December 2015: Individual property one-on-one meetings where a property survey was conducted, existing features were inventoried and documented, and each homeowner made decisions about landscaping, hardscaping, and other restoration details.
- March 2016: Cluster 1 residents visited temporary housing locations to decide which site would work best for their household.
- April 2016: Residents were given a four-week notice of the move-out date and received temporary housing packets containing important information about the upcoming move.
- April-May 2016: Property conditions were assessed. Cluster 1 residents picked up keys to their temporary homes.
- By May 8, 2016 Cluster 1 residents moved out and the sound walls went up.
- By mid-September 2016, Cluster 1 cleanup and restoration was complete and residents checked and confirmed all items on their property surveys before moving back home.
